

Address the signs of melasma, acne scarring, surgical scars and ageing.

As we age the natural architecture of our skin deteriorates, which leads to fine lines, wrinkles, large pores and uneven skin texture. Microneedling is a way to address these signs of aging.

Thousands of micro-injuries in the skin assists in the promotion of collagen and elastin, the two proteins predominantly responsible for the structure of the skin.

SkinPen treats melasma, acne scarring and surgical scars

Microneedling is a way to address the signs of melasma, acne scarring and surgical scarring. It creates thousands of micro-injuries in the skin in an effort to trigger the body's natural wound healing process.

This assists in the promotion of collagen and elastin, the two proteins predominantly responsible for the structure of the skin.
